

Executive National Bank selects RemitPro for Remote Deposit Capture Solution Offering

December 5, 2008: RemitPro, an industry leader in Remote Deposit Capture, today announced that Executive National Bank, Miami, FL selected and implemented eRemitPro™ to enhance its treasury management services.

Executive National Bank uses the eRemitPro™ application as the cornerstone for its Electronic Deposit offering. This new service allows Executive National Bank's commercial customers to scan checks and then electronically transmit the check image and data to the bank for deposit.

RemitPro's Remote Deposit Capture solution results in more efficient check processing and deposit creation through its highly configurable, feature-rich application. eRemitPro™ was architected from inception as a corporate solution thus the features and functionality inherent in the product are precisely those that are essential for corporations to realize all the advantages of Remote Deposit Capture.

"Growth in commercial deposits is a strategic objective of Executive National Bank. The addition of remote deposit capture provides the bank with a full array of products for acquiring and retaining commercial business," said Laura Etheridge, Executive Vice President of Treasury Management Services for Executive National Bank.

This new offering provides Executive National Bank's customers with a market-leading remote capture solution and allows the bank to service companies across a wider geography. "Remote Deposit Capture is definitely of benefit to our customers," Etheridge said. "We can eliminate costly courier runs. We were also able to extend daily cut-off times, strengthening existing client relationships and enhancing their cash management opportunities."

"By leveraging the benefits and efficiencies of Remote Deposit Capture, Executive National Bank embraces the changing payments environment with a solution that services their diverse, growing client base. We are pleased to have the opportunity to work with Executive National Bank to enhance their business growth," said Jana Vaughn, CEO of RemitPro.

RemitPro has been a pioneer in corporate Remote Deposit Capture since 2004 for many reasons including the feature-rich data capture screen, online workflow tools and reports and its ability to seamlessly interface with general ledger systems for posting. RemitPro also prides itself on best in class customer service and support thus ensuring its customers enjoy responsive, knowledgeable assistance whenever they need it.
