Remote Deposit Capture Solution

eRemitPro is a remote deposit capture application that can be deployed in a centralized or distributed environment. It converts checks into electronic transactions which provides faster settlement, improves funds availability, accelerates notice of NSF, and reduces banking and transaction fees.

With a desktop check scanner, a workstation program for image capture and data entry, and a link to our website, you can efficiently and accurately convert paper checks into electronic deposits. The electronic deposits can be sent to the bank(s) of your choice – eliminating time-consuming trips to the bank.

eRemitPro offers:

- Transmission to the bank of your choice
- A configurable data entry screen
- End-to-end integration with your A/R system
- Online real-time management reports featuring search, view, print and download capabilities
- Detailed pending and cleared deposit reporting
